Subject: CRSP MC is moving on Oct. 23

Dear customer,

We wanted to inform you that on October 23, the Colorado River Storage Project Management Center will move to its new office at the Wells Fargo Building: 299 South Main Street, Suite 200, Salt Lake City, UT 84111. If you have an upcoming meeting with us, please update your appointment to reflect our new location.

Please update your contact records for WAPA team members you work with to ensure you have our proper mailing address, as well. All staff phone numbers will remain the same.

Why we are moving: After 18 years, the lease for the current space is expiring and could not be renewed. We have reduced our square footage by 30 percent to maintain rent costs, allowing us to offset the increased cost of commercial space in Salt Lake City.

The WAPA team continues to work diligently on cost-effective solutions for making our new office a welcoming work environment for employees, customers and visitors. With amazing support from staff across WAPA, including IT, Communications, Public Affairs, Records Management, Security and many others, the local team is prepared to transition to our new location. If you have any questions about the new location, please call us at 801-524-5493.

We look forward to showing you around the new office the next time you are in Salt Lake City.

Sincerely,
Steve
