Good afternoon,

We wanted to provide a brief update on Open Access Transmission Tariff Revision 20-02 for the Colorado River Storage Project's and Rocky Mountain's anticipated participation in the SPP-administered Western Energy Imbalance Service market.

On Nov. 9, we posted the stakeholder comments and our responses on WAPA's Open Access Same-Time Information System along with the final OATT revision redline documents. We also made several clarifying changes to the June 16 OATT revisions, including the new Attachment R, based on stakeholder comments. In addition, we made nonmaterial clean-up and formatting edits.

The next steps for OATT Revision 20-02 are:

- Filing at the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission around Dec. 2, contingent on the status of the WEIS tariff at FERC.
- Effective date of OATT Revision 60 days after FERC filing (expected February 1, 2021).

We greatly appreciate your participation and comments on the proposed revisions. Additional information and updates will be posted on WAPA's OASIS.

As a reminder, on Oct. 2, we submitted the filing to FERC for OATT Revision 20-01 for Sierra Nevada's anticipated participation in the California Independent System Operator Western Energy Imbalance Market, and are still awaiting FERC feedback on that filing.
